FREDERIC HASKIN DISCUSSES BASEBALL

of the "Tobacco Kid" and ordered him off the field. He remained an insurgent and hobbled around his position until he was peremptorily benched by manager McAlister.

Brothers in the same league are not infrequent, even in the majors. Two now in the American league are William Killifer, catcher for St. Louis, and Wade Kilfer, substitute infielder for Washington. Neither is a very good batter and the hold of each on his place is rather precarious, but that had no effect on their playing against each other. In one game St. Louis played in Washington this season Wade made the prettiest play of the day, cutting off a hit for his brother, who sorely needed it, while Brother Bill responded on another occasion by scientifically blocking Wade off the plate and musing him up generally when he thought to score from third on an infield drive.

The Tannehill Brothers.
Two famous brothers in the big leagues were Jessie Tannehill, the famous Boston left-handed pitcher, who retires this year, and Lee Tannehill, the Chicago American third baseman. Lee is a weak hitter but a brilliant fielder. Brother Jesse used to take great delight in striking him out. Similarly, Lee was wont to exult exceedingly when he made a good play on a drive by Jesse, who was a good hitter and proud of his achievements with the stick.

Harry Howell, who will probably be an umpire next year, ruined his splendid pitching arm about a year ago by insisting upon taking part as an infielder in an exhibition game. He became excited, forgot to nurse his arm carefully, and threw too hard before he was in condition. He will never recover from that indiscretion due to a desire to win.

A story illustrating the lengths to which players will go to pull their teams through on the long end of the score is told of Cy Morgan, who has had such a splendid record with the Philadelphia Athletics this season. Morgan was pitching for Boston against Detroit in 1909. When Cobb came to bat he insisted on hurling the ball around Cobb's head to scare him away from the plate. The Detroit star knew exactly what was going on and declared he would get even. Later in the game Cobb got to third base and started for home on a play where Morgan had to cover the plate. When some distance off, Cobb launched himself through the air feet first and literally drove Morgan away, scoring his run. The fact that Morgan gave ground before those gleaming spikes that might have crippled him forever is said to have been the real explanation of the fact that he was shortly after traded to the Athletics.

Umpires Most Unhappy.
Umpires lead an unhappy life. In the heat of passion players charge them with unfairness, but seldom mean it, nor do they really attribute the supposed unfairness to financial motives. Umpires are human and like to see the best team win, but there are motives in life stronger even than baseball. The story is told of a Texas league umpire who some years ago called a 15-inning game in Houston, Texas, on account of darkness when the sun was an hour high. Then he darted madly from the park. He was captured by enraged citizens who, amid sanguinary threats, demanded the reason for denying the home team of a chance to win a game on which much depended. "Well," replied the frightened arbitrator, "at the end of the sixteenth inning I saw my girl leaving the park with another fellow and just naturally had to see where she went."

RIVERSIDE DRIVE NEARLY COMPLETED

Twenty Mile Drive From El Paso Is Nearly Finished to Canutillo.

Canutillo, Tex., Oct. 19.—El Paso's Riverside drive, 20 miles north to the state line, is nearly complete. This fine stretch of macadam road will be entirely finished by November 15, and guaranteed for one year, according to E. A. Caples, who has been personally on the job supervising construction. There now remains to be macadamized only a half mile stretch between Monterey and Canutillo and about two miles on the extreme north end, between Vinton and LaTuna.

After finishing the main road the R. Caples outfit of 30 teams and 80 men, here, will be put to work graveling the turnpike that leads from Canutillo bridge to La Union.

The Caples company has taken an option on 200 acres of the Chavezland lying about one mile northwest of the bridge, on which they intend hereafter to raise their own feed.

J. W. Spivey and R. G. Gonzalez, of El Paso, have opened their general merchandise store in a tent here, but are having adobe brick made for storehouse and dwellings.

John Murphy is having adobe made to build a dwelling house near the Bailey residence.

Miss Beal, of Lake Valley, and Miss Mandel, of Las Cruces, are teaching the La Union district school of 100 pupils.

H. H. Bailey, of El Paso, was seriously injured in a runaway accident here, but is now able to be out.

NEW DIRECTORS ARE CHOSEN AT CRUCES

Mesilla Valley Produce Exchange to Select Officers During This Month.

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 19.—The stockholders of the Mesilla Valley Produce exchange have elected the following directors for the coming year: T. C. Phillips, E. B. Hoagland, James Quesenberry, W. D. Stevens, J. W. Taylor, H. H. Hyslop, S. S. Hookland, L. E. Fuller, Hugh Clary, J. F. Davidson, J. F. Sattley, L. C. Smith, E. C. Stopp, C. E. Strode and A. R. Hefnerman. Six of these are new directors. The other nine having been re-elected. The bylaws of the exchange were also amended to read that a quorum should consist of five members instead of eight as originally drawn up. The directors of the exchange are pleased with the work of that organization during the past year and are planning to make the association even more of a success in the future.

The board of directors will hold a meeting within the next three weeks to select a president, a secretary and other officers.

Progressive Republicans Of South Dakota See Victory

GOVERNOR ROBERT S. VESSEY, Seeking Re-election.

CHAUNCEY L. WOOD, Democratic Nominee.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 19.—Interest in the political contest in South Dakota centers in the governorship. The leading candidates are Gov. Robert S. Vessey, progressive Republican, who is seeking re-election, and Chauncey L. Wood, former mayor of Rapid City, who is the nominee of the Democratic party.

For years Gov. Vessey has been identified with the progressive wing of the Republican party of the state, and two years ago, and again in June last, won the nomination over stalwart Republican opponents. The primaries last June were hotly contested and feeling was quite bitter between the two Republican factions. It was because of this that the Democrats placed Mr. Wood in the field, their plan being to take advantage of the alleged Republican defection. While South Dakota has a normal Republican majority of not less than 25,000 or 30,000, the Democrats figure that a sufficient number of stalwart Republicans will bolt Gov. Vessey to give Mr. Wood a victory and land him in the governor's chair.

Say Party is United.

The Republicans say their party is united and that the hope of the Democrats so far as the governorship or any other office is concerned is a vain one. The Republican ticket, the Republicans point out, is made up of both stalwart and progressive Republicans, and that because of this the Republicans of the state are united and will

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY

So Thinks at Least One Travelling Man. I would as soon think of starting out without my mileage books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise. I am a traveling man who represents a St. Louis hardware house. Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without protest, anyway I know mine won't. It has to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on.

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine fakers, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out, and all the "joshing" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day and a headache about three or four times a week and after standing for this four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it when my doctor told me the best investment I could make would be a fifty-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested about fifty cents a month for them ever since and when I spend every day for cigars, I feel like shaking hands with myself for I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance. My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in a patent medicine as much as in selling hardware.

Haines, quit claim deed to one piece of land in the old river bed in section 8, township 18, south of range 4 west, containing 10 acres; consideration $300.

L. H. Vanderwerf, of El Paso, to Hannah Harvey, of Leavenworth, Kansas, warranty deed to lot 32 in block 56 of Miller's Washington Park addition to the town of Las Cruces; consideration $1 and other valuable considerations.

L. H. Vanderwerf, of El Paso, to Lewis F. Luder, of El Paso, warranty deed to lots 45 and 46, in block 21 of Miller's College Park addition to the town of Las Cruces; consideration $1 and other valuable considerations.

Agreements.

On account of a conflict between a tract of land containing 15.48 acres and a tract belonging to John McClure, and whereas Bradford Hardie and wife claim to have a perfect title to said 15.48 acres, D. Baker Smith has filed an agreement by which he agrees to buy the said 15.48 acres at $131.58 per acre as soon as all seeming conflicts are adjusted.

Bill of Sale.

Bradford Hardie to D. Baker Smith, bill of sale for two horses, two mowers, two rakes, two buggies, one hay press, one scraper, one plow, one wagon, two hay slides, one platform scale, one harrow; consideration $1 and other good and lawful considerations.

Satisfaction of Mortgage.

A. A. Howell to Bradford Hardie and wife, satisfaction of mortgage, dated April 24, 1908.

Mortgage.

One mortgage deed has been recorded in the probate clerk's office.

Certificate of Birth.

September 15, a boy born to Melquades Bejarano and wife at La Union.

LEASES DONA ANA RANCH.

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 19.—E. D. Vuillaume has leased the place known as Dona Ana known as the Colquitt tract for a term of five years. The land is in alfalfa, the tract containing 136 acres, and Mr. Vuillaume will rent it out for the coming year.

CIRCUS COULDN'T FOOL THIS OFFICER

Charged With Evasion of $250 Tax at Corsicana; Made It Stick Here.

While the Barnum & Bailey circus people made a stick of their "continuous performance" single tax stunt in El Paso, they haven't made it stick all over the biggest state. Reports from Austin tell of prosecution of the circus at Corsicana for alleged evasion of a tax of $250 for each performance. In this city the "biggest show" paid only one tax, although two performances were given. The joker was a link between the afternoon and evening show, said link being the performance of a few animals and men with no audience at all to witness it.

But the county attorney of Navarro county, through the county tax collector, has applied for assistance from the attorney general's office to prosecute the circus. The trial will occur at Corsicana. The penalty for refusing to pay a tax on each performance is said to be a fine double the amount of the tax for one performance, or $500.

MILLS BUILDING UP SIX STORIES

Like the battery of elevators in the completed skyscrapers, the Anson Mills building is going up. The sixth floor has been poured and the seventh story supports are now being built in boxing and will be run in concrete before the end of the week. The carpenters are swarming over the big frame of the 12 story building and are removing the boxing from the lower stories as rapidly as the concrete has set. The buffers are already at work dressing the exterior of the building on the first four floors and the building is rapidly assuming its permanent form as the hub in the commercial center of the business district.

APPALING DEFECTS IN EL PASO'S CHILDREN'S EYES

Of the 3168 children attending the El Paso public schools, 1992 have been found defective as to eye, ear and throat trouble, according to the report of assistant city health officer A. H. Butler. A number of the pupils were also found to have enlarged tonsils and bad teeth, and the eyesight of over 200 defective. Drs. E. H. Irvin and E. R. Carpenter have established a free clinic for the benefit of poor children and operations have been performed in over 100 cases and 75 pupils have been examined and treated.
